

Swift British thrusts northeast from Arras and Lille have freed Brussels, capital of Belgium, and Antwerp, big Schelde River port, of great value as a supply base. The British spearheads are unofficially reported in Breda, Netherlands, within 35 miles of Rotterdam. Yank columns are pushing east and northeast into Germany as indicated.

149
 WAR EUROPEAN 1939
 EUROPE INVASION

Belgium